

Trance Awards powered by Trackitdown.net Press Release

// Voting Concludes Wednesday Midnight //

The clock may well be ticking down, but there are still some precious hours left for the trance nation to get their votes in for the 2009 Trance Awards. At Midnight on Wednesday though the ballot must close, and all those many 1000s of votes will all be checked and tallied.

At that point all eyes will turn, and all roads will lead to The Gallery @ the Ministry of Sound on the night of the 9th of October for the awards ceremony... and the announcement of this year's big winners! Last chance to have your say, people! Don't miss out...

Previous News From The Trance Awards:

With voting numbers up on last year's poll, it's shaping up to be a vintage Trance Awards event in 2009. As a mark of the gravity shown to the project by the dance music industry, we are proud to announce the first official compilation album showcasing the best sounds the scene has to offer.

It's not any old album either! Trance Awards have teamed up with Ministry of Sound's legendary and much respected Euphoria brand to deliver a three disk set of sounds mixed by three of the headline DJs who will be performing at the packed out ceremony held at The Gallery in London on Friday 9th October.

Heavyweight trance heroes Sean Tyas and Simon Patterson have been lined up to mix two disks while space is given to new breed rising star Claudia Cazacu to showcase her sound on the third. Covering the Trance Awards' remit of presenting the best of current and future talent, the Euphoria compilation is set to spread the vibes wider amongst the dance community than ever before.

Tyas and Patterson need no introduction to trance fans; their discography reads like a who's who of A-list labels and over the last month they've collected more air miles than Judith Chalmers with individual shows in USA, Canada, Argentina, Poland, Holland, Ireland, UK, Switzerland and Ibiza! Claudia Cazacu has one of the biggest vocal trance anthems of the year and has performed at three of the Trance Awards events. Her tracks on Armind, Reset, 2 Play and own Couture label have gained her nearly 1 million Myspace page views from her 40,000 friends giving her the perfect platform to launch into stardom within the scene.

Trance Awards Euphoria album will hit the shops and download stores on Monday 5th October as the start of a week of celebration of the scene that culminates on Friday 9th October at trance institution

The Gallery for the 5th Annual awards ceremony and party. Tyas, Patterson and Cazacu will be joined by heavyweights Markus Schulz, Menno De Jong, Jerome Isma-ae in the main room while Trackitdown.net DJ competition winners will be representing the new wave in their own room for fresh talent.

Voting is still underway and fans can head straight to www.tranceawards.com to make themselves heard until 30th September.